REALITY 1/28-31/99

Here I sit in my room Feeling so many emotions I wonder why I miss you so. Love comes inside So strong I think of you All of the great times we had Make me smile My babe How I miss you so If I hold your hand I won't let go In this great world;

THE CLOSET CHILD 3/4/99

A wonder world Cut off from the dangers of life Enclosed in a space That you can walk in several paces How is it that I am isolated? From the world Is it to protect me? From the dangers that lie ahead Or cultivate me With the finer things That will bring the best in me To shine to the world And brighten anything that crosses my path So she wonders What is on the other side? Is she strong enough? To tackle or embrace her true reality Why is it? When she takes a couple of steps forward Something lingers onto her to hold her back Is it her mind playing tricks on her? Or is the reality she developed for herself In her own closet

EXPECTATIONS

3/4/99

I wish to achieve All that I can be Soaring high in the sky Is the Direction I strive for Be it day or Night It is an Accumulation Of things that add up To all the dreams I dare to be As a tree my roots are deep in good ground My bark is steady and strong Becoming wiser in depth My leaves are as fresh As the green dew As my ideas and inspirations That someday May come to be Bear the fruit of my dreams My expectations Will come true If I believe I can achieve Then I will be able To consciously strive Toward my goals How is it the expectations I have for myself keep me centered to the world? Where would I be if I had none? Would I have the same character? That survives a chaotic world With a dream that keeps me stable I have expectations that keep me soaring As a balloon filled with helium What dangers lie ahead?

I hurdle over Because I keep moving forward To my future I want the best for myself Thinking positively and conquering all obstacles How I am able to survive When burdens come my way Blue skies ahead Filled with fresh air Of a new day That is how I am able to look forward To a new beginning I want so much For myself My Expectations That soars high in the sky Keep soaring high I stay focused on the big picture And little things phase away I like to go and do positive things For the children The elderly The needy In the society We as people we can contribute To make this world A better place I enjoy helping others My expectations for myself Does not allow me To neglect others Though I must do All that I can do to succeed So that I can have the power To help others

SURVIVE

3/5/99

I was at point in my life Where I was in need Who came to my rescue? Was it my family, friends, or professional help? Well, I know at this point in my life I survived from the burdens of my life I survived the negatives, or cries of disappointment Does being in need make me weak? Or does the feeling inside make me strong Now I know I am stronger from surviving These experiences of helplessness Did I call for help? Or did help come seek me I was so strong that I did not see That I needed help So when people thought I could use help or advice I became angry and upset Then once I accepted the help that was given to me I was able to help myself and evaluate my thoughts I began thinking of alternatives to solve my problems Once you began to admit that maybe your behavior is different Focus on helping yourself and you will see a positive change This change is an everlasting change within me So I say still I survive from the hardships and burdens that surround me Still I survive from all the negativity that surrounds me I am protected by God, my family, and friends and I say I Survive

THE WAIT

3/5/99

I pondered the thought of when it was time that I would go home. Though the decision was not entirely my own Part depended on how I interacted And was able to make a new transition The other part was a decision Determined by my counselor So, I hoped and wished that all would go well That my behavior would reflect my willingness For change and new tidings Well the time is drawing near And all is positive in the air The thought of waiting is not all that bad I look forward to the day When they come and say It's your life, So go on your way To do what I have to do And accomplish my goal and dreams That lives within me.

NEW BEGINNINGS 3/5/99

A brand new day Wisdom to begin a new start on lifeNew since I am given another chance That I was able to pull myself though my circumstances, And have faith from within I have the start to put all my hopes and dreams to the test With the help of God to pull me up if I fall My loved one in my heart to stand by my side I trust in God with all my heart I also expect you my love to be there For me if I am in need I make mistakes, no person is fallible So forgive me as Jesus has forgiven you For not trusting and having faith I would have been by your side if you had let me know That you cared, so now I wait her wondering If you will walk back into my life Knowing I still care With the blessing of God in my life I have made room for you Please stay Stay in my heart Stay in my life Please stay

MY BETTA

I DI DI DI DI DI

3/5/99

Tropical fish so colorful and shiny You flounder you tail As you brush through the water Every time, I feed you You put your trust within me, And nibble right from my hand How I enjoy watching you move Around in your surroundings So exotic you brighten any day In return all you ask for Is some food flakes How I wonder what you think If you are happy in your tank When I change your water You do not seem to mind You flounder and flounder In you tropical waters

THE GYM

3/6/99

This gym or sports club is full of dynamic people Some you refer to as stars, basketball players, lawyers, and stockbrokers, others as CEO's Generally, hard workers who come to let off some steam Some come in mingle at the café, or eat down at the restaurant While others may spend the day at the spa People that get involved with the personal trainers are trying to work on body and mind There are four levels of floor work out areas One is for aerobics and cycling, while the other floors are machinery and free weights The famous basketball court where both men and women play ball Showing off their skills is fashionable to hang out there They have a military type of class where you feel as though you are in boot camp The kids and their parents hang out in the junior Olympic swimming pool Another sport both the kids and their parents enjoy is a form of karatido The other attraction is the outdoor track where you can run or rollerblade The top floor they have a sun deck where you can kick back and sit in a folding chair Listen to music, and read the newspape

SPORTS TEAM

3/6/99

The cheering of the crowd as you try your best to score The swiftness of the ball as it leaves your hand Your teammates working together as one to score another point Disappointment when you don't make the score Consistent enthusiasm from your faithful fans Score, Score, Score You hear the roaring of the crowd Your movement is automated as though you practiced this play a million times As you score another, you feel as though your head is on cloud nine Back into reality the other team gets hold of the ball What defense plan will we use to get the ball back in our hands? Tackle them and we will get penalty points We stick together waiting for a chance to recapture the ball back in our hands We take the ball back and head for another chance to score Swoosh, another point, we take the lead with thirty seconds to go We stumble passing the ball to avoid the other team from scoring Five, Four, Three, Two, One We Won

THE PEN

3/6/99

The pen is my instrument for expression It is my tongue that I speak with I write my most intimate thoughts My free expression Enables me to relinquish any feelings I have at any particular moment I tend to use this pen to help me deal with particular situations that I am in To help me get a better understanding of a topic or situation This pen can be used in a positive or negative manner I prefer to use it positively, as therapy or just for fun The thought has crossed my mind that this persuasive pen Can get me a good job, and many opportunities I t can also be used constructively when criticizing Though I stay away from the negativity, because Nothing positive comes from that The pen can be used to make or destroy a person's reputation, but That person will have to live with their decision

LOVE FROM WITHIN 3/19/99

I am so sad because I can't see you anymore I thought I was strong through when I reflect and look back I feel this void inside I know that I am strong and I will make it through The strength within me to survive and make something of myself is stronger I learned that I have faith This longing to make something of myself within me is sound To hear the echo of your cheering for me makes me so proud I have determination within me to strive for my goals The star that is shining in the sky I call onto you Every time I look up in the sky and remember all of our good times That star I recall upon and think of you Shine bright star shine Into the night you brighten the blackened sky I see you in my mother, father, sister, brother, niece, and nephews All the beauty I see is within me, so I am not sad, but happy To have someone like you bring the best out in me To challenge me to achieve goals and strive for the best within myself Not to take no for an answer To move beyond any limitations that are placed on me To look for motivation from within and conquer all tribulations To spread my love and knowledge To whoever is there to accept my kindness? Will help me feel valued

As your shining star will give the light

children, churches and daddies chapbook

JUST SAY NO 3/20/99

Just say no, When you do not believe in what is being offered to you Just say no, When you are already under too much stress Just say no, When the demands are too many Just say no, When you do not have the desire to extend anymore Just say no, For what ever reason that the price is too high You will survive, Just believe You will accomplish a lot more if You will learn to say "No"

RIGHT AT BAT 3/20/99

I was down, but I was not out I still stayed in the game Did you think you struck me out? No, I had one strike against me Did you think I would leave and sulk? My mind is too strong and heart is not giving up I am at home base until you see me strike out, And I will keep coming back I have the beautiful gift within me called will The will to love The will to live life to the fullest The will to give The will to share, And the will to care for others My beauty from within shines on the outside If I happen to strike out I will get another chance Right at bat, And do not think I will give up You will see me again And again Right at Bat

HEADING TO THE TOP 3/20/99

I am strong hearted I am strong willed I am headed to the top The blue skies and clouds are high in the sky Is there a glass ceiling for me? I will soar through any limitations Or borders that come my way I am headed to the top and that's where I will stay Do not try to bring me down, because Your snares and devilish ways will not affect me In any way or form Because my head is looking forward, And I will not look back I have God on my side And he is here to protect me I am in the sky, And that is where I will stay My mind is on God's words and he has a lot to say Keep moving forward and he will protect you I heading for the top, And that is where I am staying

THE ARTIST

3/2,1/99

How is it that I am able to express what I am feeling? Be it writing, dance, acting, drawing, or song. This is my avenue of expression This is my mode of thought to express my feelings Why is it that we tend to hold anger in? Instead of releasing our feelings and Letting go of the stress build up Tension and anxiety can cause headaches What form of art do you use to express your feelings? The artist is the one who masters the form of art The one who is free of expression? The master artist is in touch with their feelings They will use their form of art to entertain at the same time they express themselves As an artist cultivates their skill they become better at what they do Attracting more people to appreciate their art Why do we need to express ourselves? Should we keep our feelings bottled up inside? No, when we allow little things to build up they tend to explode When little things bother us Is it because, we kept our feelings to ourselves It is healthier for us to become assertive To let others know how we feel Or else we become angered and frustrated For allowing others to control our lives By not standing up for ourselves and taking initiative To speak up for ourselves

RAINBOW

3/2,7/99

A colorful gleam of lights Reflecting upon a wet surface Shining upon the ground With an array of red, yellow, green, blue, and purple These beautiful colors together give me a sense of instant joy To appreciate such natural wonders that are taken for granted The dew on the grass in the morning The blossoming of the flowers in the spring The rain and sun that gives our plants and flowers nutrients Waterfalls that are astonishing to look at The smell of the outdoor of all of the earth grown forestry Walking outside to appreciate the change of scenery, trees, shrubs, A pond surrounded by older and baby ducks, and a swan

STRENGTH

Strength is part of your character that pushes you to do When very little energy is left in you It is when you have no resources, And still have the desire to reach higher It is when you have been though so much turmoil Many wonder how you can take another step forward It is when you break from your ordinary pattern, and Strive for something better It is when everyone tells you to give up, but Your heart keeps pumping on It is an accumulation of things that happen to you, and You continue to push on

EASTER SUNDAY 4/4/99

The true meaning of Easter Sunday is the renewal of Christ, Many celebrate with Easter bunnies, eggs, candy, beautiful dresses, and suits It is a day to acknowledge that all that Jesus has done for us In God's name To know that he has given his life for us That he died to take away our sins, So we can enter the gates of heaven He came back in spiritual form We should all celebrate, but Know the true meaning behind Easter Today was a wonderful day I went to mass and received the Eucharist, And the word of God Then when I came home we had a dinner, and I reflected

RELEASE

4/4/99

Release One, Two, Three Burst Out Open Champagne, Explode Roses Blooming Rockets Shooting A person crying Life beginning A boxer punching a bag Let go, Let go Fighting, kicking, jumping I am back, roaring to go Back to make my mark And Explode Back in the competitive game Ready to shout, dance Joy, laughter, and smiling Excruciating sounds, anger Release Let go Orange, Red, Go Explode At war with soldiers On the earth Peace Corps working to make A better place Birds chirping, Dogs growling Make a sound. Stand up, Stomp Scream Loud, Clap, Make a Noise Be heard

FRICTION

4/99

Disagreement Arguing, Screaming Colder, Colder, Colder Two surfaces that are rubbing against each other Never coming to terms Shifting, Changing, Sliding Gliding on ice Walking on the floor Making love two kindred souls Sliding on a board Running on a track Mopping the floor Angry, not happy with someone Things are going the wrong way

THE UNDERLYING SEASONS OF TREES

3/6/00

One lay dormant in the sunlight bare of its green essentials The prosperous one known to ignite the lives of children In summer, fall, winter, and spring What two worlds merge together fruits that are seen on different plains? One giving of its leaves and other bearing green whitish pins of life We see the difference of the world beyond us Though very few can acknowledge The strength and endurance of one That gives life to others throughout the seasons The leaves shall return in spring While the others bare its greens all year long children, churches and daddies chapbook

DANCE

Dance to me is a song Of expression A free high Moving, gliding Soaring about One, two, three One, two, three A moment in time A fantasy A party Moving to a beat Pounding the drums A whirl of wonder In the ecstasy of life

3/2,7/00

THE DRUM

African rhythmic beats In tune to the earth Music Sounds of the land In retrospect to our forefathers In unison As one A melody So sweet Twirling in my mind Happiness At last

EXERCISE

4/1/00

Exercise Motion Pushing through time A moment of force To take away another pound Push and Pull Weights that sustain A balance In tone with life Jumping and running Through a pavement worn down Beautiful sites you pass That comes back in time

WILL TO LIVE

4/30/05

Lying down asleep I try to seek peace A state of mind Wake up! Wake up! Water is taking hold My nose, I am falling under I can't breathe Wake up! Wake up! My mind is not functioning If I stay awake, Will I get insomnia? I try to rest as I am falling asleep My mind is being taking over As I am falling deep under I awake from this attack Scared to fall asleep I need my rest to stay alive Vibrant, to function Will I make it? Stay strong Fight to live Harmony is here The water is not taking hold of my nose as strong My mind is getting stronger Though I lose control Something has taken over All I can remember is I awake with the same feelings and thoughts Though I feel a little bit stronger Strange, how life is My will to live is stronger That is how I survive

STATIC

5/3/05

Moments in time Changing, Shifting Will you be mine? Forces That draws you near Angles So distant and clear Couples, Parallel in line Do they meet? Or in another life Joints, Reactions Burst, out in flames It came to me With a new life Share Resultant That is where it ends Adjusting So I see you tonight

MECHANICS

5/3/05

Pain, Sorrow, Despair Engineering Was it happy? My thought was it clear Lectures, Test, Finals Came to mind I had an ego Until it came to class It revealed my logic As a task I jumped though the rope Until it was gone Family and friends were they gone Then it was my turn To travel Defeat I mean I came close But it wasn't near Now I have time to regress I say Logic is back What more do I say

FRIENDSHIP

Friendship to me is a helping hand It takes me up when I am feeling bad Two kindred souls working together Blessed to have one another I want to know how it would be Could we count on one another? Dancing, Prancing Around Let's stay strict To depend on each other Ups and Downs they come around Let's take turns Leading around Now there comes a time When you must pick Is it me? It is time to choose Look not haste Another fit Once we know where we are leading I'll make a choice In this New Haven Is it me? I must know Once I'm here I tell you so You are a friend Indeed When you come close I'll tell you please

BABY

My baby In spiritual form you are the one That makes me shine Together we are everlasting In memory I hold you are my precious light So dear to me How I miss you so If I can hold time I would never let you go I think of you always My shining star You are my sun in the morning and guiding star at night Shine bright, Shine bright My baby You take all the worries and cares away In heaven Dedicated to "Harper Williams"

MORE THAN FRIENDS

Friendship is to me is to trust beyond To share of oneself With another For fun Sorrow, or just to be near In comfort, or laughter To show that you care It is as though you been together a lifetime through Hopes and dreams you inspire each other To accomplish any task Big, or small This feeling of joy It seems to clear The everlasting bumpy roads that come to past You are more than just a friend to me With your warmth and comfort Showering, This ever-glowing sensation That comes from within, an emotion

A feeling that hides inside, To protect the gentleness, Of my loving heart

EVERGLOWING LIGHT 5/1996

Moods Feelings-shouting out loud Many thoughts Passing-a moment in time At last I take hold this memory of mine A dream Fantasy, make it all mine Dangling, like chandelier glass An emotion, so soft Or cold as snow Release, let go Explode! Not my mind Let go, of the haunting Let go Heartbeat No More
