

Shanghai

People sell handmade brooms in China, and it was common to see them everywhere.

Bicycles are often used in China; in poor weather people use mittens that remain attached to the handlebars to protect them from the rain, sleet, snow or ice.

It is common in China to see people on bicycles with large carts attached; many times people are bringing wares for sale in the streets with these carts.

Shanghai

Top two images: Shanghai. Bottom image: Beijing.

Shanghai

